Principles of handling your personal data

We will treat your personal information not only lawfully, but fairly, in the simplest and most transparent form possible. Accordingly, we will only ask you for the most necessary ones to purchase. These are the following:

- Billing information (name and address)
- Delivery details, if they do not match the billing details (the courier usually arrives in the morning or during working hours, so it is worth entering your work address here if you work at this time)
- Contact a contact person so that we can negotiate if there is a special circumstance around the order

We treat their personal data with care, taking care to preserve their accuracy. If you still have a problem with them, have a question, or even want to find out more about how we handle your information, please feel free to contact us at the contact details at the bottom of the page. We store your data for the time and in the manner required by our legal obligations, and we will not use it for anything other than your purchase without your consent. You can request your data from us, request their correction, deletion, or restriction of treatment, or you can withdraw your consent to the processing of your data at any time.
